About Toshin Electric

Toshin Electric was established in 1950, and we have been developing and manufacturing products for the computing industry for over half a century. This has allowed us to build trust and gain experience.

Company strengths

In the 65 years since Toshin Electric was established, we have developed and manufactured products for the computing industry. In particular, we specialize in making wide varieties of Japanese-made products in variable quantities and small quantities, and providing our products quickly.

Main products

2-camera driving recorder

The recorder is designed for trucks, buses and taxis. It records clear video taken while driving. It can be used to prevent accidents and to analyze the cause of accidents.

Rotating laser marker

Products can be rotated after manufacture, and words and marks can be printed on them. This process does not require a large inventory of materials, block copies for silk screening or inkjet cartridges.
